

Wheat phenology drives disease exposure; disease damage does not feed back into developmental rates.